DENTAL SURGERY.

MR. J. EMANUEL, SURGEON-DENTIST, begs to offer the warmest expression of his gratitude to the gentry and public of New South Wales, for the unprecedented patronage extended to him since his arrival in the colony. Many of its leading families have done him the honour to bear ample testimony to his skill, the result of many years study under the first professors of the College of Leyden, Netherlands, from whom he obtained his diploma in 1836, AS A DENTIST. He has since then readered himself intimately conversant with the various modern improvements in the surgical and mechanical parts of his profession, in London, in Paris, and other towns of the continent. This allusion to qualifications peculiar to himself, is dictated as much by philanthropy as self-interest, Mr. Emanuel having actually derived more pecuniary advantage from the treatment of complaints resulting from unskilful and baneful attempts of unqualified practitioners, than from any natural cause.

Mr. E. may be consulted, with perfect confidence, at his residence, every day, from ten until five, where diseases arising from or incidental to the teeth and gums will be promptly and permanently remedied. His artificial teeth, from one to a complete set, are admirably adapted to the purposes of mastication, articulation, and even for the embellishment of the mouth.

In conclusion, Mr. E. begs to caution his patients against the false reports circulated by interested parties, that the gold used by him in stopping decayed and securing artificial teeth will materially increase his charges.

A twelvemonth's trial of those Dennets over some of the rougest roads in the country, enables Messrs. Newly discovered Shoal.—Capt. Smith, of the Thomas Harrison, reports having discovered a shoal, not mentioned in any chart, on his passage from Batavia to Singapore, via Banca and Rio Straits. It lies in lat. 1° 7' S., Pulo Taya bearing N. half W., and the Seven Islands E. half S. It is a very dangerous shoal, not having more than sixteen feet water on some parts of it, and from a mile and half to two miles long, with irregular soundings, varying between five fathoms and two fathoms and three-quarters, hard ground.—Morning Chronicle, July 2.

Important to Mariners.—A letter received at Lloyd's, from their Agent at Cork, states that Captain Hill, of the Guiana, arrived there from Moulmein, reports having found an opening in the Barrier Reef in Torres Straits, two miles wide, in lat. 12°12' S. The opening appeared quite free from danger, and is a new passage. In coming through, Captain Hill also states that he saw the wreck of the Fergusson, lost some months since on the Great Barrier, which bore S. W. by S., distant about six miles.—Morning Chronicle, 25th June.

The George, for Hobart Town, entered outwards in Liverpool on the 1st July.

The schooner Falcon was lying at William's Town when the Seahorse left Port Phillip.

The Eden put into Bahia on the passage out; there were no vessels there connected with these colonies. The only vessel spoken by her on the passage was the Jane Gifford, off the Cape of Good Hope, from Glasgow, bound to New Zealand, with emigrants.

The John Woodhall was expected to be the first vessel after the Eden, for Sydney direct, to be followed immediately by the Giraffe.

It is supposed that H.M.S. Vindictive, 50 guns, Captain Nicholas, now at China, will be stationed here to supply the place of the Favorite.

"Sworn to no Master, of no Sect am I."

THE MAIDEN COUNCIL.

When Sir George Gipps proposed in Council a scale of qualification for the municipal franchise so low as to amount nearly to universal household suffrage, we objected to it on what appeared to us, and still appears, a very valid ground—namely, that it would give an undue preponderance to the working classes, whose numbers in the city population, in proportion to those of employers, are about three to one. We contended that, in strict justice to both divisions of the people, the qualification ought to be such as would place the masters on at least a numerical equality with the workmen. The low qualification was, however, carried; it has now been put to the test of a practical experiment; and we leave to His Excellency the instructive task of studying the results.

One result is, that men in every way qualified for the City Council, and whose moral worth, good sense, and blameless repute would have made them a real acquisition to the representative body, have been rejected. Another and a parallel result is, that men in no way qualified have been triumphantly returned.

On neither of these results shall we now expatiate. The deed has been done, and cannot be undone. We shall calmly and observantly await the issue; and whether it be for good or for evil, we shall, "without fear or favour," discharge the solemn duty appertaining to an independent Press.

We rejoice to find, however, that among the twenty-four individuals officially declared to have been duly elected, there is a decided majority of competent men. On looking over the list with all the care and impartiality we could exercise, we have counted fourteen names that appear to us unobjectionable; indeed, nearly the whole of these fourteen are not only unobjectionable, but highly eligible for the post to which they have been chosen. Of the remaining ten, there are some four or five of whom we scarcely know enough to warrant a positive opinion whether they are or are not fit for their office, and of whom, therefore, we are willing to hope the best. Compared with some of their unsuccessful rivals, they are, doubtless, not worthy to be named; but still, though stars of inferior magnitude, it is possible they may twinkle harmlessly in their little orbs. Among the rest of the ten, there is at least one comet of portentous aspect, whose fiery tail threatens woe and confusion to the municipal firmament.

If the illiterate and obscure individuals who find themselves placed in a sphere for which their good stars assuredly never destined them, be modestly conscious of their own deficiencies, and willing to surround themselves with wiser and more influential men, they have now an opportunity of doing credit to their own heads and hearts, and service to their constituents. On Wednesday next they will have to elect six Aldermen, who need not be of their own body, but may be selected from any of the citizens "qualified to be Councillors." The discretion thus wisely confided to them by the law, gives them an opportunity of bringing into the Council half a dozen men of good education and respectable standing, whose presence would add weight and dignity to the body, and whose judgments would be a valuable help to municipal administration. If this judicious step be taken, we confess our unfavourable prepossessions against certain of the chosen will have been considerably softened down. Illiteracy allied with presumption is a disgusting spectacle; allied with meekness and humility, it is inoffensive and conciliatory.

In the choice of Aldermen, it should be borne in mind, that if respectable men be selected, it is almost certain the Governor will appoint them to be magistrates. This is not provided in the Act, but is very properly left to His Excellency's discretion. It is exceedingly desirable, for the sake of the dignity of the Corporation, that the Aldermen should all be in the commission of the peace; but this will be quite out of the question, unless the Aldermen be persons to whom such rank could be consistently granted. Again—if one part of the aldermanic body be eligible for the magistracy, and the other part ineligible, the Governor will be reduced to the painful alternative of either withholding the commission from the whole, or invidiously giving it to some and refusing it to others.

We trust it will thus be apparent to a majority of the Councillors, if not to the whole of them, that it will be at once their duty and their interest to select the Aldermen from persons of whose respectability there can be no question.

Another very important duty will be to choose a Mayor who will really adorn his exalted position. To place in the civic chair a person of whose claim to the name of gentleman there could be the shadow or a doubt, would be a direct and gross insult to the whole body corporate. Here, especially, we are anxious that the Councillors should exhibit good sense and correct feeling.

The next in importance will be the election of a Town Clerk. This functionary, to use a colloquial phrase, will be "the life and soul" of the whole Corporation. He will not be the mere Secretary of the Council, but, until there be a City Solicitor, he must discharge the important duties of its legal adviser. On his legal knowledge and acumen—on his steady and systematic application to business—and his thorough and long-matured acquaintance with the local affairs of the City—almost every thing will depend. Nor should he be merely a good lawyer and a clever man of business; he should be a good man—irreproachable in morals, unspotted in reputation.

We have one word more. The members of the City Council will please to understand that they have, one and all, ceased to be private characters. They are no longer sheltered behind the snug fences of domestic privacy. They stand on elevated ground, exposed to the rough elements of popular observation and criticism. They must be content to abide the peltings of many a storm. They are PUBLIC PROPERTY. Their office has been created for the public benefit—their persons have been elected by the public voice, and for the public use—and in accepting the suffrages of their fellow-citizens, they have enlisted themselves as PUBLIC SERVANTS. It is important that this new relation should never be forgotten by them. "Censure," says Dr. Johnson, "is a tax which a man pays for being public." They must expect their full measure of censure—censure by name—censure of the most keen and cutting kind. Their words and actions will be placed on public record. The Argus eyes of the Press will be upon them. They will be sifted and searched through and through. If they do their duty, they shall be cheered and supported; if they act amiss, they shall be sharply reprimanded. Their peculiar position is, that they are the first body of Sydney's representatives. If, by their prudence, zeal, and honest devotedness to the public interests, they shall do credit to the new-fledged Corporation, great will be the honours shed upon their names, and lasting their fame in our municipal annals. If, on the contrary, by their remissness, their ignorance, their folly, their blundering measures, their violent tempers and angry contentions, they shall cause Sydney to blush for her Maiden Council, they will draw down upon their heads the scorn and indignation of the whole colony, and consign their names to an infamous immortality.

ENGLISH NEWS.

We received yesterday, we believe by the Oratava, from Hobart Town, English papers to the 3rd July, but see nothing of particular importance not mentioned in the Herald of yesterday. Our files however are very incomplete.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Ward made a motion for the introduction of the Ballot, which was lost by a large majority, the numbers being—

Against the motion	290
For it	157
Majority	133

Sir John Easthope's motion for leave to bring in a Bill for the abolition of Church Rates was negatived, the numbers being—

Against the motion	162
For it	80
Majority	82

Lord Ashley's Bill for regulating Coal Mines, passed the House of Commons without opposition. Children under thirteen years of age, and women, are not to be allowed to work in mines after the passing of the Act.

The Royal Assent to the Australian Waste Lands Bill, was given on the 22nd June.

On the 1st July, Lord Stanley gave notice that on Monday, July 4th, he would, in a Committee of the whole House, move for certain resolutions relative to the government of Australia. We cannot find the slightest clue to the nature of these resolutions, nor can we trace what has been done with the New South Wales Bill.

Despatches from the Governor of New South Wales, were received at the Colonial Office on the 24th June.

In America, Lord Ashburton's mission was drawing to a close, and there was every probability of the long pending boundary question being at length finally, and we are glad to say amicably, settled.

A deputation from the Union Bank of Australia had had several interviews with Lord Stanley: we believe they are endeavouring to obtain a charter.

We yesterday quoted from the Weekly Messenger, of July 14th, which should have been the 4th: this mistake we were led into by the Hobart Town papers, and we may take this opportunity of remarking that we have not observed any confirmation of the statement given in yesterday's Herald, on the authority of the Hobart Town papers, of the consecration of a Bishop of Van Diemen's Land.

A few of the more interesting extracts will be found in another column.

EXAMINATION.

In the estate of Frederick Forrester:

This insolvent was examined by Mr. W. Thurlow, and deposed as follows: My schedule, with the amendment I have now made, is correct; I have been in business as a grocer for nine months; I had £80 when I commenced business; I drew the money from the Savings' Bank; my son gave me the ticket to draw the money out, the money having been lodged there in his name; my son is at Mr. Hunt's, the cabinet maker; there was £80 in the Bank in my son's name; I sometimes deposited the money in the bank, and at other times my son placed it there; I have put away several hundred pounds during the last nine months; I lived in Elizabeth-street three months out of the nine; sometimes I did not draw 8s. per day; the most I ever drew was £14 per week. The £74 bill to Stirling is paid in money; also the bill for £52, together with one for £35. Mr. Goode's bill was paid in money, and also Fisher's, as well as £12 14s. to Mr. Millar; I was losing money every day from the commencement of my business; my household expenses, including rent, were £5 per week; I dare say I lost £2 per ton by the first parcel of sugar I had from Mr. Lyons, which was one ton, for which I paid £28; I sold six bags of that to Mr. Young; I sold some of Mr. Lyons' sugar for less than I gave for it. I don't think that I lost by the first batch, but I lost by the second batch. I sent sixty-one sovereigns home by Mrs. Garfield to Scotland; I sent the money for goods which I expect by the first vessel from Leith; Mrs. Garfield had left her husband because he was a bad character; she gave me no receipt for the money. When the last bill of S. Peek and Co. fell due, and after you had written to me, when I called upon you, I did not say that I had the money, but that I had paid it to some one else; I had some land which I sold to a man named Carter, three months after I had bought it, he paid me £2 or £3 profit on it; I bought; it about a twelvemonth ago. The conveyance was made to him about two months ago; I never had any land on the Surry Hills, nor anywhere else except at Pyrmont; a man named Millar used to borrow money of me, £2 or £3 per week to pay his men, as he was building at Pyrmont; I cannot tell how much he borrowed, because he paid me back again; a £30 bill was the last payment; I did not lend him money every week; when I filed my schedule I gave up all the money I had; I settled my account with Urquhart long ago; I made up that account marked (A) from my memory and my receipts last night; I have been in the Colony about eighteen years, and my sentence was twenty-one years; I was assigned to Dr. Lang, from whom I hold a ticket-of-leave; my wife sold in the shop; I kept no cash book; I kept Mr. Urquhart's books; I am assigned to the Scots Church.

The meeting was then adjourned till Friday, the 18th instant, at 1 p.m.

Certificates of Discharge.—The following persons obtained certificates of discharge on Thursday last, before Mr. Justice Stephen:—John Nicholson, of the Manning River, shipbuilder, and Thomas Davis, of George-street, Sydney, saddler.

LONDON WOOL SALES.

The first series of sales of colonial wool this season, commenced 14th instant and concluded 18th, consisting of 1,901 bales Port Phillip wool; 1,239 bales Australian wool; 1,948 bales Van Diemen's Land wool; 239 bales South Australian wool; 173 bales Swan River wool; 917 bales South African wool; 978 bales East Indian wool.—Total, 6,495 bales.

A very large proportion of the above wool was of middling qualities. The condition of the wool from Port Phillip, we regret to remark, was very wasting, but free from burrs, seeds, &c.: this last remark applies also to the wools from the other colonies.

The few combing wools were in request, and the prices of the finer clothing wool were well supported by numerous West of England manufacturers, particularly those marks which were regularly packed, and in a fair average condition.

We are glad to discover a new feature in some of the South Australian wool, viz.: good combing properties, length, soundness of staple, and elasticity.

It will be observed the quantity offered for sale was very moderate; this circumstance, together with a slight improvement in the manufacturing districts, enable us to state the prices realized were equal to the average of last season's sales.

The prices current will show the estimation in which the best Cape wools are held, and must offer great encouragement to the growers to proceed in the improvement of their flocks; the condition was, as usual, good.

White and good yellow East Indian wools were in demand, but inferior yellow, grey, and all kinds containing burrs, prickles, &c., were almost unsaleable.

THOS. SOUTHEY and SON,

London, June 20. 23, Coleman-street.

From the long continuance of contrary winds, the present series of sales consisted of a small proportion of the quantity anticipated, and the consumers and dealers having quitted their stocks as far as possible, to prepare for the new clip, the attendance was large, and each party taking a few for immediate supply has caused an advance in price on the last sales, which it is hoped the next forthcoming sales will establish.

The quantities consisted of 1,239 bales Sydney wool; 1,048 Van Diemen's Land; 1,901 Port Phillip; 239 South Australian; 173 Swan River; 917 Cape; 978 East Indian. Total, 6,495 bales.

The quantity of Australian wool hitherto received is too small for us to give a correct judgment upon, either as to quality or condition. That from Van Diemen's Land is considered (so far) as better in condition, but, for the most part, short for combing; that from Port Phillip still continues in unfavourable condition, but shows improvement in quality. The wool from South Australia and Swan River continues, with but few exceptions, very uneven and ill-conditioned.

Cape wool maintains its character for improved quality and management, and was in good demand.

The quotations for East India wool show an improvement in price.

MUSICAL EDUCATION.

We have before us a Prospectus of a Vocal Academy, which Mr. Nathan intends forming on the German plan, for the instruction of classes in sight-singing. The support that Messrs. Cooke and Bennett met with in London, also, the decided success of Mr. Hullah's national undertaking, fully warrant Mr. Nathan, we think, in expecting cordial co-operation here. That the system, if perseveringly supported and carried out, will be productive of immense good to society, we are convinced; that Mr. Nathan's efforts will be rewarded as they merit, it is but right to hope, and we cordially wish him success. The power and effects of music, and the advantages to be derived from its general cultivation, Mr. Nathan has said much, and much to the purpose, upon, even within the limits of his small Prospectus; and has most pertinently brought forward several very ancient authorities to his assistance. Our space will not permit us to expatiate at any length upon the subject; but we believe, and advisedly aver, that part-singing, if cultivated among the humbler classes of the community, would do much towards increasing happiness, and diminishing crime. We know not any recreation likely to take with the working classes, at once so cheap, rational, civilizing, and well calculated to promote family and neighbourly love. In part-singing, the voice is the only instrument required; several must enter into the amusement, and be dependent upon one another for the requisite effect. The parts in most instances require female voices. Thus, wives, daughters, and even children, are included. The working man no longer indulges in the tap-room and tavern; but looks forward to his home, and the assembling of his family for the usual madrigals or hymn. Persons who cannot sing at sight, (only because they have never learned) are imagining perhaps that we are indulging in a picture never to be filled up; and that singing music at first sight is only to be accomplished by the professional musician. The working classes in Germany could soon convince to the contrary; or a few evenings among the different amateur societies in London would be sufficient. Sight-singing, like reading, is to be learned by a little labour and attention to rule; a voice of the smallest compass and power may be made useful; no person who can sound a few notes need be left out. How great a change would the general cultivation of this simple art make in our congregational singing! How many appear even to forget that the psalms and hymns are a part of the service in which they ought to join? To say nothing of the torture to which their praiseworthy efforts sometimes put their more sensitive neighbours. Many of our readers, doubtless, are thinking that we are attaching far too much importance to the cultivation of this art; but we would be distinctly understood that we do not recommend it to the exclusion of duties, or other useful branches of education, or of more profitable employment; but that we do advisedly and fervently recommend as a recreation the cultivation of part-singing at sight, to all classes in society, but especially to the working class. With the latter class, the advantages we have spoken of can never be efficaciously diffused until the government assist by a making it a part of national education. The excellent effects resulting from this plan in Germany are most manifest. The system has been carried into England, and every file of papers we receive tells us of thousands benefiting by it: that it may be extended to this colony, and throughout the world, we cannot, as lovers of harmony and philanthropy, but wish.

Mr. Nathan's Prospectus, although of a private academy, gives us much satisfaction. The terms requisite to remunerate him, although very moderate, will be too high for the class of the community that we are most anxious about. It is only in a national academy that our wishes on this subject can be fully carried out; and we shall hail the establishment of such an institution in this colony as the beginning of essential good. Our limits oblige us to refer to Mr. Nathan and his Prospectus for further detail. We would venture one word to Mr. Nathan before leaving. Does he not think that six o'clock, p.m., the time fixed for the gentleman's class to meet, will be seriously interfered with by the turtle soup and other delicacies with which we hope to see this mercantile city abound, about that hour? If we might suggest, we think that seven, p.m., would suit more generally.

Street Robbery.—About two months ago, Mrs. M'Dermott, of Elizabeth-street South, was robbed of her reticule, containing ten shillings in silver, a pair of spectacles, and a handkerchief, by a man who snatched it out of her hand, as she was walking home along Elizabeth-street; after committing the robbery, the man endeavoured to get away by making across the Race-course, but was pursued and captured by some parties who happened to be near the spot, and was conveyed by them towards the Parramatta-street watch house, with the view of confining him, on getting near which, he managed to effect his escape. Since that time, the delinquent had not been seen or heard of, but on Thursday evening he was apprehended by Inspector Molloy, having been pointed out by Mr. Doyle, who was the first person who laid hold of him after taking the reticule from Mrs. M'Dermott. Yesterday morning this man was brought before the Bench for examination, and his identity having been sworn to by Mr. Doyle, as well as spoken of pretty confidently by Mrs. M'Dermott, and Mr. Stedman, the dispenser at the New Gaol, the prisoner was remanded until this day for further examination.

Theatre.—Mrs. Gibbes, the sixth of the performers by the Trial, made her first appearance on Thursday, in the character of Paul, in the opera of Paul and Virginia, in which she was completely successful: her singing was very much admired.

Grain.—Statement of the different descriptions of Grain held by Government on the 1st November: Wheat, 39,014 bushels; maize, 12,919 bushels.

THE FIRST MEETING OF THE COMMON COUNCILLORS.

Yesterday, at three o'clock, a preliminary meeting of this body took place in one of the large rooms of the Royal Hotel: present, Messrs. Chapman, Jones, Egan, and Peacock, from Gipps ward; Messrs. Pawley, Mitchell, and Jones, from Cook's ward; Messrs. Hill, Holt, Macdermott, and Broughton, from Macquarie ward; Messrs. Flood, Wiltshire, Neale, and Taylor, from Phillip ward; Messrs. Hosking, Foss, Allen, and Owen, from Bourke ward, and Messrs. Holden, Little, Smidmore, and Hunt from Brisbane ward. A reporter from the Sydney Herald office having made application to be admitted for the purpose of reporting the proceedings, this was the first subject brought under consideration, when it was decided that as the meeting was purely of a private character, and preparatory to the holding of the preliminary meeting, which takes place on Monday, admission was refused, but at the same time, it was intimated, that as soon as the council had been organized, every facility would be afforded to the gentlemen of the press. After the liberty of the press had been disposed of, the questions of Mayor and Aldermen were brought under consideration, but nothing definite transpired. There is, however, good reasons for believing, that some of the Aldermen will be selected from the city, and some from the Common Council. Several other topics of a subordinate character, were afterwards brought forward, and were to a certain extent discussed. The Council appear to be very much non-plussed for a place to meet in. In the meantime it has been suggested, that as the Council Chambers are partly unoccupied, that the gentlemen might be accommodated there without expense, and, at the same time, with advantage to the public.

Village of St. Kilda.—A site has been fixed upon for a village, at St. Kilda, in the County of Bourke, on the sea coast, about three miles from North Melbourne, and a mile eastward from the present landing place at the beach. A copy of the approved plan can be seen at the office of the Surveyor General in Sydney, or at the Survey Office in Melbourne.

Gratitude.—A female named Mary Hyland was brought before the Police Court yesterday, upon the charge of stealing a blanket, the property of a Mrs. Kelly, residing in Gloucester-street, by whose evidence it appeared that the prisoner, having quarrelled with her husband, had applied to the prosecutrix for a night's lodging, on the plea that she was afraid to go home; moved by the pitiful tale the prosecutrix had granted her request, and had not only furnished her with sleeping accommodation for the night, but had added thereto a good and substantial breakfast, and a glass of rum, on the following day. After the two friends had disposed of the rum, the prosecutrix went out for the purpose of buying something for dinner, leaving the prisoner in charge of the place until her return, but when she came back she not only found that her guest had deserted her post, but discovered that she had been ungrateful enough to take with her a blanket very little the worse for wear, and sundry articles of children's clothing. Fired with rage she immediately sought out the delinquent, and having at length succeeded in finding her, she taxed her with the theft, and demanded the restitution of the property, but received nothing but abuse in return, in consequence of which she immediately gave the defendant in charge. The bench after hearing the above evidence remanded the prisoner until this morning for further examination.

Court of Claims.—Notice of Hearings.—The Commissioners will investigate the following claims to lands and town allotments, on Wednesday, the 23rd November, and following days, at eleven o'clock:—1141. Edye Manning, of Sydney, merchant. 1142. George Hill, of Albion-street, Surry Hills. 1143. Solomon Phillips, of Parramatta, dealer; solicitor, C. B. Lyons. 1144. William Graham, of Shoalhaven. 1145. Michael Byrne, of Campbelltown, an infant; solicitor, John Ogle. 1146. Edward Kerswill, of Sydney, shipwright; solicitors, Minithorpe and Gurner. 1147. Benjamin Lee, of Paterson, settler. 1148. —— Cohen, of ——. 1149. William Peisley, of Parramatta, butcher; solicitor, C. B. Lyons. 1150. Gregory Howe and Thomas Patrick Fitzsimons, both of Parramatta; solicitor, A. Hayward. 1151. Charles Bones, of Sydney, brewer. 1152. George Sutter, of Baulkham Hills, settler; solicitor, A. Hayward. The cases that were postponed at the last sitting will also be heard at the present one.

Accidental Death.—We perceive by the Hobart Town papers that Robert Raine, who was convicted of forgery at the late criminal sessions, and most unaccountably pardoned upon condition of his leaving the colony, was drowned in the Derwent river about a fortnight since. From the evidence given on the inquest of a son of Captain Kelly, an old colonist of Van Diemen's Land, it appeared, that Mr. Kelly, Raine, and two men were proceeding to a farm of Captain Kelly's on Bruné Island; when opposite to Brown's River, the sail (a lug), was caught aback, and instantly upset the boat. Raine sunk immediately; the other three hung on the keel of the boat for three hours, exposed to the most bitter cold, and immersed in water. They were not discovered until they had drifted opposite Mr. Lucas's, the pilot station. Young Mr. Kelly, who was a youth of very high spirit, exhibited no fear; but, after some time, he was seized with cramp, and just before Mr. Lucas, who had hastened to their relief the moment he discovered them, reached the spot, Mr. Kelly became insensible, and would have sunk had he not been supported by one of the men. Mr. Lucas stripped off all his clothes, in which he wrapped Mr. Kelly, having first removed his wet clothes. He reached the shore before life was extinct, but notwithstanding every remedial means with which Mr. Lucas and his family were acquainted, he died soon afterwards. The two men, although greatly exhausted, and injured with bruises, soon recovered.

Accident.—Yesterday morning, as Mr. Porter, of Brickfield Hill, was riding near the excavation at Grose Farm Hill, at the same time that the mail was passing in a contrary direction, the mare upon which he rode, being a very high spirited animal, became alarmed, and plunged with so much violence and suddenness as to throw him upon the ground, immediately in the track of the vehicle, one of the wheels of which passed over his leg, but was prevented from doing him any further injury, by the presence of mind of the driver, who pulled up with so much strength as checked effectually their further progress. Fortunately, Mr. Porter has sustained but little injury from the accident, but had it not been for the before-mentioned dexterity of the coachman, there is every reason to fear that the result would have been a fatal one, as in another second the hind wheel of the vehicle would have passed over his head.

Assault.—About two o'clock yesterday, while Mr. S. Lyons was conversing in Pitt-street with Mr. Want, the solicitor, and his two brothers, Mr. Joseph Walford, the wine and spirit merchant, of George-street, in company with Mr. Daniel Egan and Mr. Watson, the Harbour Master, came up, and Mr. Walford immediately commenced using abusive and threatening language of such a nature as to cause Mr. Lyons to have recourse to the police. On his affidavit a warrant was immediately issued, and Mr. Walford was forthwith apprehended, and (we believe with his own consent) was bound over to keep the peace for twelve months.

Injuring a Fence.—A man named Michael White, was charged at the Police Court yesterday, with stealing a fencing rail, the property of Sir James Dowling, having been apprehended on the previous day upon a warrant obtained against him for that offence by John Hayes, Sir James's overseer. By the evidence of the latter it appeared, that he had seen the prisoner take away the rail in question from a three-rail fence; but from the nature of the prisoner's defence, and the good character which he had previously borne, the Bench were of opinion that he had taken the rail in question rather from a mistake than from any felonious intention, and merely sentenced him to pay a fine of five shillings for damaging the fence.

Charge of Perjury.—Messrs. Brenan and Myles were occupied for a considerable time yesterday in investigating a charge of perjury, preferred by a person named Livingstone, against inspector Nugent of the Sydney police. This case arose out of a previous charge, which had been brought by Mr. Nugent against Livingstone, whom he then accused of having assaulted him (Nugent) in the execution of his duty, by having seized him by the breast. This charge, for some reason, which in the investigation of yesterday did not appear, was dismissed. And the present proceedings were instituted on the ground that no assault had in point of fact been committed, and that besides this mis-statement, Mr. Nugent had also been guilty of perjury in having stated that no one was present at the occurrence, whereas, in truth and in fact, a Mrs. Forsyth was present during the whole of the time. Mr. Rogers appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. G. R. Nichols for the defence, the former of whom called three witnesses, Mr. Livingstone, Mrs. Forsyth, and Mr. Bloomfield, in support of the charge. The two former witnesses swore positively that no assault was committed; but there was no positive proof of the second allegation, that Mr. Nugent had sworn that Mrs. Forsyth was not present, and in addition to this, the testimony both of Livingstone and Bloomfield was in several respects both weak and irregular. After the case for the prosecution had been closed, Mr. Nichols remarked, that he was quite prepared to leave the case to the judgment of the Court upon the facts only; but there was a legal objection to the information which, in the discharge of his own duty as an advocate, he felt bound to urge upon the notice of the Court, namely, that the Magistrate who tried the case out of which this charge had arisen, was not in a condition to adjudicate in it, and therefore the statements of Mr. Nugent could not be material to the issue, for as the charge was one of assault, it could only be brought before a Court by means of a regular information, which in this instance had not been the case. Mr. Rogers replied to this objection by urging that the Bench could not take advantage of its own irregularity to dismiss the charge, but the Court remarked that for all that had been shown to the contrary, the Magistrate who heard and dismissed the case might have done so on the very ground of its having been irregularly brought before him. In order therefore that the matter might be properly considered, it was determined to adjourn the case until twelve o'clock on Monday, and a second information against Serjeant Adams, of the Sydney Police, arising out of the same transaction, was also postponed till the same time. We do not think it advisable at this stage of the proceedings to go more fully into the particulars.

Riotous Conduct.—About eleven o'clock on Thursday night, a mob, amounting to upwards of one hundred persons, assembled in the front of Mr. Lyons's house, in George-street, and behaved in the most riotous and disorderly manner, knocking at the door, pelting the house with stones, and using threatening and bad language. The reason for this conduct was stated to be, that Mr. Lyons had affronted them by his conduct at the election. A couple of months on the treadmill would do some of these young scoundrels good.

Police Court Business, Friday.—The police list of yesterday contained twenty cases, namely,—four of stealing which were remanded, one of stealing which was dismissed, one of highway robbery which was remanded, one of suspicion of highway robbery which was also remanded; two of the same offence, which were dismissed; one of assault, which was dismissed; one of misconduct in indented service, which was remanded; one of absence from hired service, which was dismissed; one information under the Vagrant Act, in which the defendant was convicted and sentenced to two months imprisonment in the house of correction; one of suspicion of stealing, which was dismissed; and six for drunkenness in the street, all the defendants in which, were, with one exception, new hands; this exception was Thomas Grady, who being convicted of the offence for the fifth time, was sentenced to be worked on the treadmill for sixty hours. There were also thirty-two summons cases, namely, two of perjury, one of charging excessive damages, one of deserting a wife, seven for breaches of the Licensing Act, two for refusing to pay wages, four for assault, one for breach of the Hired Servants' Act, one for malicious injury of property, three for breaches of the Building Act, nine for breaches of the Police Act, and one for threat. A great number of these cases however were remanded.

Sly Grog Selling.—Among the summons cases heard before the Police Court yesterday was one against a man named William Butler, residing on the Botany-road, against whom an information for sly grog selling had been filed by constable Proctor, of the Sydney police. On the part of the prosecution, it was proved that a ticket-of-leave man, named Thomas Henry, had gone into the house of the defendant by the direction of Proctor, and had procured half-a-pint of rum on the 30th of October last; and it was also proved that the defendant held at the time no license for the sale of spirituous liquors. Mr. Purefoy, who appeared on the behalf of the defendant, objected, first, that the information was invalid in consequence of an abbreviation having been made use of in it; and, secondly, that the charge could not be sustained, inasmuch as he had been merely charged with permitting his wife to commit the above mentioned breach of the Licensing Act, as it was proved in evidence that the defendant was himself actually present at the time that the liquor was served; this objection, as well as the technical one against the information, was overruled. The information was supported by Mr. G. R. Nichols, who replied to the arguments made use of by Mr. Purefoy on the part of the defendant, and the Bench after a brief consideration sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of £30 and £5 costs, or in default to be imprisoned in Sydney Gaol for the period of four calendar months, the space of seven days being allowed for the payment of the fine.

Poisoning Fowls.—William Scott, of Campbell-street, and his better half, Catherine, appeared before the Police Bench, yesterday, to answer a complaint preferred against them, by Mrs. Esther Hutchinson, their next door neighbour, of having wilfully, and of malice aforethought, murdered six of her fowls, by the aid of poison. By the evidence of the complainant, it appeared that some time previous to this occurrence, she had had a quarrel with the defendants, who, upon that occasion, had threatened her with divers marks of their displeasure, and among other things, had told her, that "she should not keep a single thing alive, about her place." The yards of the complainant and the defendant being only separated by a small open fence, the fowls belonging to both parties were in the habit of ranging backwards and forwards at free will, over the whole premises, and this free state of things continued until Wednesday, the 19th instant, when six fowls belonging to the complainant suddenly gave up the ghost, without having manifested any previous indisposition which might account for so sudden a decease. The suspicion of the complainant having been aroused by this circumstance, she made some enquiries, and subsequently ascertained that the defendants had purchased a quantity of arsenic, at Dr. Grant's, in Pitt-street, with the expressed intention of using it to destroy rats, and having also had the precaution of having one of the murdered birds opened in the presence of a medical practitioner, she had ascertained beyond doubt, that its death had been occasioned by its having taken poison. In reply to the accusation, the defendant did not deny that the fowls might have come to their untimely end by the influence of poison, which they had swallowed upon the defendants premises, but contended that the arsenic had been merely placed there for the destruction of the rats, and without the slightest view of inflicting any injury upon the feathered members of Mrs. Hutchinson's family. The Bench remarked that this might have really been the case, but expressed an opinion that there was great reason to entertain some fear to the contrary, although no criminal intention had been clearly established by the evidence. In order therefore to guard against the recurrence of any circumstances of this nature, the defendants were ordered to find sureties to keep the peace towards the complainant for the period of twelve months, the male defendant to be bound in the sum of £20 and two sureties of £10 each.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

The markets, with one or two exceptions, since my last, remain very quiet; the sales effected have been so trivial that they are not worth reporting. No alteration in prices, however, can be quoted, excepting Brandy and B.P. Rum, which have advanced 3d. per gallon. This dulness may in a measure be attributed to the elections that have this week taken place. The Eden, from London, adds nothing of importance to our stocks excepting Dunbar's ale and porter.

Lower George-street.

SYDNEY MARKETS.—Friday.

Wheat.—Nothing has arrived from the country during the week. The cargo per Martha, from Valparaiso, has been disposed of in small parcels, at from 6s. to 6s. 6d. The price of Colonial wheat is merely nominal.

Flour.—The usual amount of business has been done in this market. The importations from South America prevent any speculation going forward. The prices at the mills are the same as last week, namely:—

	Credit.	Cash.
Fine	21s.	20s.
Seconds	16s.	16s.
Ration	14s.	13s.
Bran	2s.	1s. 10d.
No. 1 Biscuit	20s. per cwt.
2 ditto	21s. ditto

Maize, notwithstanding the large quantity which has been received coastwise, is still on the advance; some of the dealers are charging as high as 5s. 6d. per bushel. The prices given to growers and importers range from 4s. 3d. to 4s. 6d. per bushel.

Oats remain stationary; the prices are from 5s. to 5s. 9d. per bushel in small quantities; the prices given to the growers are from 4s. 9d. to 5s. per bushel.

Barley is still dull; the prices given to the growers are from 2s. 9d. to 3s. 3d. per bushel; the retail prices are from 3s. 6d. to 4s. 6d. per bushel; the latter being the price given for the best Cape barley for seed.

Hay is meeting with a ready sale; the prices range from £5 10s. to £7 15s. per ton. About fifty loads have been submitted for sale since last report.

Straw is likely to rise; the eight loads brought to market having averaged 36s. per load; the extreme prices have been from 30s. to 42s. per load.

Grass.—About a dozen loads have paid market dues; the dealers are giving 1s. per dozen per load freely; the retail prices are from 1s. 2d. to 1s. 4d. per single dozen.

Poultry.—During the week there has been an increasing demand among the dealers for good poultry, but as it is with difficulty they can purchase them, an advance is likely to take place. The great number of persons who are at present hawking poultry about the city will, however, have a strong tendency to keep the prices at their present rates. Fowls are now from 5s. to 6s. per pair; ducks, [illegible] to 8s.; geese, 10s. to 12s.; turkeys, 12s. to 15s.; large cock birds are charged from 14s. to 20s. each.

Potatoes.—There is at present a large supply in the market, which has principally been received coastwise; the prices given by the dealers for Colonials, range from £4 15s. to £5 5s. per ton. The wholesale prices of Derwents are from £7 7s. to £8 14s. per ton. The retail prices of Colonials are from 7s. 6d. to 9s. 4d. per cwt., and of Derwents, from 12s. to 14s. per cwt.

Dairy Produce.—There is at present a very large supply of excellent butter in the market; Glenlee is 2s. 6d. per lb; other sorts from 1s. 9d. to 2s. 3d. per lb. Colonial cheese is from 8d. to 11d. per lb; a few choice samples are still retailing at 1s. per lb. The best bacon is 1s. per lb., and colonial hams are from 1s. to 1s. 3d. per lb. Lard is from 10d. to 1s. per lb.

Fat Cattle are plentiful. The wholesale butchers are giving from £5 to £6 per head, which is at the rate of about 16s. 8d. on the estimated weight of the carcase. Good sheep are in request; several small lots have realised as much as 9s. per head. Porkers are scarce; the prices are from 36s. to 40s. per head. Sucking pigs, per litter, are from 4s. 6d. to 5s. each.

Butchers' Meat.—The best beef and mutton is selling by the carcase at from 17s. to 19s. per cwt. cash. Pork and veal are from 40s. to 45s. per cwt.; suet is from 36s. to 40s. per cwt. The retail prices are—Beef and mutton, from 3d. to 3½d. per lb; pork, 6½d. to 7½d.; veal, 7½d. to 8½d.; suet, 5½d. to 6½d.

Vegetables in general remain as last reported. Several of the stands had cucumbers on sale yesterday; the prices were from 10d. to 1s. 3d. each.

Draught Cattle.—The price of horses of every description appears to be on the decline. Brood mares do not realize more than from £28 to £37 per head. Draught horses, which eighteen months ago realised from £50 to £80 per head, are now plentiful at from £25 to £40 each, and good stock horses are offered at from £15 to £25 each. A dozen of working bullocks were sold at the Cattle Market during the week, and did not realise above £2 5s. per head.

Milch Cows.—Yesterday, several milch cows changed hands at from £2 10s. to £3 per head. The average prices for the best milkers range from £4 10s. to £6 per head. A mixed herd of about thirty head was yesterday put up by auction at the Cattle Market, but was not sold.

Fruit.—The following are the wholesale prices: Oranges from 1s. 3d. to 1s. 9d. per dozen; loquets, from 10s. to 15s. per bushel; Lisbon lemons, from 1s. 9d. to 2s. 6d. per dozen; colonial lemons, from 3d. to 1s. per dozen. The retail prices are, oranges from 2s. to 3s. per dozen; loquets, from 9d. to 1s. per quart; strawberries, from 9d. to 1s. per plate.

Timber.—Notwithstanding the great number of buildings carrying on in almost every part of Sydney, there is comparatively little doing at the timber wharfs. The explanation of this is to be found in the fact that the greater number of those who are at present investing capital in buildings have made contracts with persons along the coast for the supply of such timber as they require. The prices since last reported have undergone no change.

Firewood is at present plentiful; the prices are from 4s. 6d. to 7s. per load.

Coals per cargo from 20s. 6d. to 22s. 6d. per ton; the prices per single ton of 14 sacks are from 23s. to 26s., at the wharfs; the ton per weight, of sixteen sacks, at the Ebenezer yard, is 26s.

NEWS FROM THE INTERIOR.

(From our various correspondents.)

GOULBURN.

Oct. 31. Bushranging.—On Wednesday last, one of the cottages at Mummell, was entered by two bushrangers who succeeded in breaking open a locked chest, and stealing therefrom £3, and sundry articles of wearing apparel, to the value of ten pounds more, with which they got clear off—they crossed the Wollondilly and took through the bush; the parties were in pursuit of them as soon as the robbery was discovered, but they have eluded detection. These men have been prowling about sheep huts in this district for some days; settlers should now be cautious in allowing such characters to lounge about their premises, who call under the pretence of seeking employment, when their only object is to plunder when the inmates are off their guard; the mounted police are after the rogues. The gentlemen of this district are considering the propriety of forming themselves into a yeomanry corps: such spirited proposals if carried into active operation, must carry terror into the hearts of lawless desperadoes.

The weather is still very unsettled; we had a thunder storm last night accompanied with rain: the plains look well, and the following will show their capability in rearing fat cattle:—Mr. Harrison has just killed a fine bullock which was calved and reared within sight of the town, is only three years old, and weighs 1065lbs., the best specimen of prize beef we have seen in the colony: he has four other bullocks of the same kind reserved for the merry days of Christmas, when the Goulburnians will have an opportunity of keeping the generous feast, over the "roast beef of Old England." The same butcher killed two calves lately, from nine to fourteen months old, the one weighed 400lbs. and the other 464lbs.

November 1.—Levy Burton, ticket-of-leave holder, and Samuel Sweeny, free by servitude, were brought before the bench here, and examined on a charge of cattle stealing. Mr. Hardy, of Yass, dogged them from the Lachlan, and observed they kept clear of one or two of the stations which they had to pass, which excited his suspicion; they were committed to stand their trial for the offence. Same day there was an examination of one of the mounted police, who being in a state of intoxication at the races, was ordered off the ground in charge of another: the latter charges him with firing his piece at him; the former says he discharged it in case of accident: we understand he was also committed on the charge.

BERRIMA.

Maize here appears to be on the advance; the prices are from 5s. 6d. to 6s. per bushel; wheat is on the advance, but still cash purchasers may procure a good supply at 5s. per bushel. Good cattle are in demand; prime milkers on an average realising from £6 to £7 per head. The sheep in general appear healthy, and the prices per clip are on the advance, but from the difficulty of procuring woolpacks at a reasonable rate, it is feared that no small delay will take place in getting the wool forwarded to Sydney. Since the Governor visited this district two gangs of probationary men have been stationed on the Goulburn road for the purpose of repairing it, but it is feared that it will not be productive of much good, as the whole number of men is both gangs does not exceed a dozen, and there are places on the line where double that number might be advantageously employed for a month without progressing more than one hundred yards. The mail contractors are willing to ration a gang for repairing the bridges at Cordeaux Hollow, and also at the Murderer's Valley, where the bones of Fraser and his son were found, in the vicinity of Green's. His Excellency appeared to be of opinion that it would be a public benefit if the bridge at Atkinson's was so far completed as to render it passable. The élite of Berrima were much disappointed by His Excellency taking the short cut along the old road, on his return from Goulburn. He put up for the night at the private residence of Charles Throsby, Esq., one of our respected resident magistrates. Bushranging appears to be on the wane, as with the exception of a few crawlers, who are thinning the henroosts after sundown, there is nothing doing worth mentioning.

PORT MACQUARIE.—EARTHQUAKE. October 31.—The following particulars of the earthquake, which took place on Friday, are communicated from our Meteorological Station.—

"On Friday morning (Oct. 28.), about half-past five, the wind then being W. by S. squally, with a dark gloomy sky, the Thermometer 60°, and Barometer 30.400, a smart shock of earthquake was felt in this township, appearing to range from N. W. to S. E. It was of about three minutes duration, and the oscillations of the earth being quick and frequent, inasmuch as the various articles of furniture, &c., in houses, within the space it seemed to cover, were in continual motion.

"The weather during the month had been remarkably dry, with very hazy atmosphere and strong winds; but 0.05 of an inch of rain having fallen. The Barometer continued to rise from the 18th (on which day it stood at 30.120), up to the 24th, when it was, at half-past eight A. M., 30.970, after which it gradually fell till the 27th, when it remained stationary at 30.400. The wind variable, both as to intensity, and the points it may have blown from during each day.

"There was no indication given by the Barometer of any great change taking place, other than it having suddenly fallen 100° about three P. M., the day previous. There were violent oscillations of the mercury during the period of the shock, after which it became stationary at 30.400 for the remainder of the day.

"The previous morning (27th) broke very calm, with cirri generally prevalent, which, about noon, gradually spread into one sheet of nimbus, the wind flying all round the compass. About three P.M., the barometer suddenly fell 100°, distant thunder being heard to the South, which thunder, in about an hour, became very violent directly over this place, with heavy rain till five P.M.; a hail-storm supervened for about ten minutes, stones falling of great size, some of which measured upwards of 2½ inches in circumference, although the thermometer then stood at 66°; after which it settled down into a steady rain, which continued at intervals during the night."

In addition to the above, I have to remark that the progress of the shock, if I may so speak, seemed to commence from the valley of the Hastings; inasmuch as, from accounts received to-day, the motion appears to have been more severely felt at Barombin and Yarrows, than at Port Macquarie. Yet, even here, the shock was so great, that in several houses the inmates who slept upstairs were thrown from their beds; those sleeping on the ground floor did not feel the shock so much.

G. Britanniar. Regina F. D.," and for the reverse the words "Half-farthing," with the date of the years surmounted by the royal crown; and below, the united emblem of the rose, thistle, and shamrock; and whereas pieces of the copper money of the description aforesaid have been coined at our Mint, and will be coined there: we have, therefore, with the advice of our Privy Council, thought fit to issue this proclamation; and we do hereby declare, ordain, and command, that all pieces of copper money, so coined and to be coined as aforesaid, shall be current and lawful money of the kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and shall pass and be received as current and lawful money of the said kingdom, every such half-farthing piece as of the value of half a farthing of like lawful money: provided that no person shall be obliged to take more of such pieces in any one payment than shall be of the value of six pence.

God save the Queen.

DEATH OF DR. ARNOLD, OF RUGBY.

WE announce, with sincere regret, the death of the Rev. Thomas Arnold, D.D., head master of Rugby school, which took place at Rugby, on Sunday morning last, after a few hours' illness, of a disease of the heart. Dr. Arnold was well known as one of the most distinguished writers and profound classical scholars of the day. His edition of "Thucydides," and his, we fear unfinished, "History of Rome," are works which will always hold a high place in our literature. Besides these, we have his sermons and miscellaneous works, and his recent publication of the lectures delivered by him at Oxford in his capacity of Professor of Modern History in that University. But it would be great injustice to Dr. Arnold's memory to speak of him merely as a scholar and historian. During the fifteen years he has been master of Rugby school, he has not only governed that institution with admirable ability and success, but few men have done so much towards raising the standard and the character of education itself, in this country. No man was ever more beloved by his pupils, or by his numerous acquaintances; nor has the death of any given a more severe shock to his family and friends. Dr. Arnold was remarkable for the uniform sweetness, the patience, the forbearing meekness of his disposition. He was an innate Christian; the bad passions might almost be said to have been omitted by nature, in his constitution. But his truth and honesty were unflinchingly regardless of his own interest, or of temporary consequences; he followed truth with a rare singleness of purpose and simplicity of heart. Dr. Arnold was attached from principle to the Whig party, and has been often considered as very near promotion to the Episcopal bench; but that such was not his own wish, we have the best means of knowing. Dr. Arnold had latterly devoted the whole of his time unoccupied by scholastic duties to his lectures on Modern History and to his History of Rome, and was contemplating a retirement, in the course of a few years, to his favourite residence at Fox-how, in Westmorland. Dr. Arnold had, we believe, attained the age of fifty-two. He was born at Cowes, Isle of Wight, and was the son of the late William Arnold, Esq., Collector of Her Majesty's Customs of that port. He was educated at Winchester school, and from thence went to Corpus Christi College, Oxford. He was afterwards Fellow of Oriel. Dr. Arnold married a daughter of the late Rev. John Penrose, and has left behind him a numerous family, to whom, and to his many sincere friends, his premature death will be felt as an irreparable loss.

MARRIAGE OF THE PRINCE ROYAL OF HANOVER.—It will have been seen that her Majesty has signified her approbation of this intended alliance, the Royal Marriage Act, we presume, rendering such a step necessary, as the Prince Royal is in the direct line of succession to the throne of Great Britain. The lady to whom his Royal Highness is about to be united is the Princess Alexandrina Maria Wilhelmina Catherine Charlotte Theresa Henrietta Louisa Paulina Elizabeth Frederica Georgiana of Saxe Altenbourg (formerly Hildburghausen), who has lately completed her 24th year, having been born on the 14th of April, 1818. Her Serene Highness is the eldest daughter of his Serene Highness Joseph Frederick Ernest George Charles Duke of Saxe Altenbourg, who was born on the 27th of August, 1789, and succeeded his father, Duke Frederick, on the 29th of September, 1834, having been married on the 24th of April, 1817, to the Princess Amelia Theresa Louisa Wilhelmina Philippina, daughter of Louis Duke of Wirtemberg, born on the 28th of June, 1799.

THE NAVY OF THE UNITED STATES.—The injunction of secrecy having been removed from the proceedings of the United States' Senate in regard to the increase of the navy and naval promotions, the reports of the majority and minority of the committee to whom these subjects were referred have been given to the public. The majority of the committee concur in the views of the President on both points. The minority consists of Messrs. Mangum, of north Carolina, and Williams, of Maine. These gentlemen profess to be warm friends of the navy, but think that the increase of the naval force recommended by the President is too large and the promotions too numerous. The force in commission, should the President's suggestions be carried out would comprise 7 ships of the line, 16 frigates, 28 sloops and brigs, and 8 steamers. Even this force is small compared to that of England, which has in commission 259 vessels of war, although her mercantile tonnage is not much greater than ours. The tonnage of the United Kingdom on the 1st of January last, counting all merchant vessels above 50 tons, was 2,698,732 tons. The American tonnage on the 30th September last, counting all above 20 tons burden was 2,180,764. Excess of British tonnage over American only 187,968. The British tonnage is 115,029 tons less than it was in 1835! The American tonnage, on the other hand, has increased about 400,000 tons. The President's recommendation in regard to promotions is that hereafter there shall be 104 captains, now 67; commanders 96, as at present; 325 lieutenants, now 320; 63 passed midshipmen, now 103; midshipmen 450, as at present. The majority of the committee calculate, that these various promotions would not increase the expenses of the navy more than 72,000 dollars—a sum which they deem of little importance compared with the advantages which would result from it.—American Paper.

BOZ ON THE STAGE.—Private theatricals were among the amusements of the people of Montreal whilst Sir Charles Bagot was there. A performance took place at the Theatre Royal, with Mr. Charles Dickens as stage manager, who, with his lady, sustained leading parts in the pieces selected. Soon after the doors were opened, says the Montreal Herald, the boxes and pit were filled with the beauty and fashion of the city, and the gay uniforms of the officers of the different regiments in the garrison, interspersed with the costly dresses and jewelled brows of the ladies fayre, presented a beautiful scene. Among the audience were his Excellency Sir Charles Bagot and suite. The first play in the bill of fare was "A Roland for an Oliver," the part of Mr. Selbourne by the Earl of Mulgrave, Alfred Highflyer by Mr. Charles Dickens. The Montreal Herald says the performers elicited thunders of applause and roars of laughter from all parts of the house. The laughable interlude of "Past Two o'Clock in the Morning" followed, Mr. Snobbington by Mr. Charles Dickens. This was the performance of the evening, and was most admirably acted. Mr. Dickens so disguised his person and voice that some time had elapsed after the play began before he was recognised. The closing piece was the farce of "Deaf as a Post," in which Mrs. Dickens played the part of Sophy Walton.

Her Majesty has been pleased to present the piper of His Royal Highness the Duke of Sussex with a very handsome Scotch mull, for his performance at the bal costumé. It is shaped as a powder horn, and is elegantly mounted in silver; on the top is a splendid cairngorum, set in a double border of the thistle chased in silver. The end is finished with a silver thistle having a large amethyst in the centre. On an escutcheon is the following inscription — "Presented by the Queen's command to Donald Mackay, piper to His Royal Highness the Duke of Sussex, in commemoration of his having played before Her Majesty at the State Fancy Ball, given at Buckingham Palace, 12th May, 1842." The pipers of the Dukes of Buccleuch and Sunderland have been honoured with similar presents.—Court Circular.

TREATIES BETWEEN GREAT BRITAIN AND TEXAS.—The ratifications of the long-pending treaties between Great Britain and Texas were exchanged at two o'clock on Tuesday, the 28th ult., by the Earl of Aberdeen, Plenipotentiary of Great Britain, and the Hon. Ashbel Smith, Plenipotentiary of the republic of Texas. These treaties are three in number:—A treaty of amity, navigation, and commerce; a treaty undertaking mediation by Great Britain between the republics of Mexico and Texas, and a treaty granting reciprocal right of search for the suppression of the African slave trade. They were negotiated in 1840, and concluded in November of that year by Viscount Palmerston and General James Hamilton. The powers to ratify the first two have been a considerable time in England, but their completion has been very properly delayed until the ratifications of the treaty granting the right of search could be simultaneously exchanged. By the treaty relative to Mexico, Great Britain offers her mediation between Mexico and Texas on the following condition:—Texas to assume £1,000,000 sterling of the public debt of Mexico, provided that State recognizes the independence of the new Republic, and agrees to a satisfactory adjustment of the boundary line between the two countries. The proffered mediation of Great Britain between Mexico and Texas will, it is to be hoped, be productive of immediate peace between those countries.

PRESENTS FOR HER MAJESTY.—An Arabian man-of-war, the first that ever appeared in English waters, came up the river on Sunday in tow of a steamer, and was moored in the afternoon off the Victualling-yard, at Deptford. Yesterday she was towed into the St. Katherine Dock. The pennant was flying at her maintopmast head, and she had a red ensign hoisted at her mizen. This vessel, which excited much curiosity, is from Zanzibar, and has brought over four valuable Arab horses and other presents, from the King of Muscat to her Majesty Queen Victoria. The vessel presents a similar appearance to that of one of our merchantmen of 500 or 600 tons burden, except that she carries 10 guns.

On the authority of a communication dated Hamburg, June 7th, the Courier says—"We are able to give our readers the gratifying information that the British Government has been induced to grant to German emigrants to New Zealand, on certain conditions, equal privileges with British subjects. A free passage will be given to German emigrants recommended by the English agents, and immediately on their arrival in the colony they obtain their naturalization. To carry these measures into effect, the New Zealand Company has established at Hamburg an agency for Germany, the official notice of which may be shortly expected."

SCOTTISH NEWS.—Emigration from this part of the country for the United States continues unabated. Yesterday the ship Perthshire left the Broomielaw with her full complement of passengers, 214, being the largest number of emigrants that ever left the Clyde in one vessel for the United States. As it was known that the Perthshire would sail upon the day advertised, a great concourse of spectators and friends of the emigrants lined the quay upon the south side of the river to witness her departure. The passengers were all of a very respectable class, chiefly farmers, with their friends, and were in the best spirits from the handsome accommodation of the ship and the fineness of the day. Glasgow Chronicle.

THE LIGHT SOVEREIGNS.—It is not true that the very hot weather has led to the Queen's proclamation on the subject of "sweating sovereigns." We understand, however, that Sir Peter Laurie has placed all his ready cash in an ice-house, in order to keep the gold from getting into a violent perspiration from the intense heat that has been lately prevalent. After the allusion to "sweating sovereigns," we can perfectly understand the meaning of parties betting "a cool thousand," which, of course, means a thousand pounds that have not been sweated.—Punch.

DEATH OF SIR JOSEPH LITTLEDALE.—This venerable ex-judge expired on Sunday last, at his residence in Belford-square, in his 75th year. He was the eldest son of Henry Littledale, Esq., of Eton house, Lancashire, by the daughter of —— Wilkinson, Esq. He was educated at Cambridge, where he was senior wrangler, and first Smith's prize man in 1787; was called to the bar in 1793; and filled the office of a judge of the Court of Queen's Bench from 1824 till February, 1841, when he retired with the usual pension, and was succeeded by Mr. Justice Wightman. Sir Joseph was sworn in a privy councillor on retiring from the bench, and had been in a declining state of health since he resigned his judicial functions.—Bell's Messenger, July 14.

SCOTTISH SOCIETY.

THE Members of the Scottish Society are particularly requested to attend the Quarterly Meeting, to be held on Tuesday, the 8th instant, at the usual place, as it depends upon their attendance whether the funds be sacrificed, or the benefits of the Society be at once opened to the members. They are earnestly requested to be punctual, at half-past seven o'clock. 6326

To the Citizens of Sydney.

GENTLEMEN,—The result of Tuesday's meeting for the election of Councillors for Brisbane Ward is now before the public. The want of a far greater number of voters favourable to my interest, I am warranted in saying, I entirely attribute to the fact that I, neither in person, by friends, nor by committee-men, canvassed for a single vote; but left the inhabitants to the exercise of their own free and unbiassed choice of nominating fit and proper persons to fill the honourable, important, difficult, and responsible office of their representatives in the Common Council of this City.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen, your most obedient servant,

DAVID POOLE.

George-street, November 4. 6352

ENGLISH NEWS.

MONEY MARKET AND CITY NEWS.

(From the Morning Chronicle, July 2.)

THE news from India and China, exclusively communicated in our evening edition, reached the City this afternoon before four o'clock, communicating the highly satisfactory intelligence of the junction of General Pollock with Sir Robert Sale, at Jellalabad, and of his intended march on Cabool so soon as he was joined by Colonel Boulton. The funds immediately advanced ¾ per cent., and closed ½ per cent. better than yesterday. The last price of Consols for the Account being 91½ to ⅝; Three per Cents. Reduced, 91¼ to ⅜: Three-and-Half per Cents. Reduced, 100¼; Exchequer Bills, 45s. to 47s. prem.

The intelligence from China (also exclusively communicated by the same means) of the defeat of the Chinese in their attempt to retake Ningpo and Chinghae was read with much interest, and considered highly satisfactory.

There was rather more business transacted on 'Change to-day, and the demand for Bills on Hamburg being greater than the supply, the exchange was materially lower, and left off 13 11; Vienna was rather higher, and done at 9 55.

The duty on foreign corn is 9s. per quarter. The discount on continental bills is rather lower, and quoted at 3 to ½.

The inquiry instituted by the committee of the Stock Exchange has satisfied the members that the party who gave publicity to the false report regarding the house of Lizardi and Co., of New Orleans, was not guilty of giving circulation to a statement fabricated for stockjobbing purposes. We understand, that he had been misled by erroneous information, and that the committee acquitted him of any intentional act of deceit, but very properly expressed their disapprobation of his indiscretion in having promulgated such a report without having, in the first instance, made inquiry regarding its veracity. The utmost caution should be observed in such matters by parties connected with the Stock Exchange, and the result of this inquiry will, we trust, produce a salutary effect.

The business has been quite limited to-day in the Foreign Securities, and prices are last quoted as follows:— Spanish Active Bonds, 20¾; Deferred, 9¾ to ⅞; Passive, 4 to ¼; New Three per Cents. Stock, 20¾ to ⅞, ex div.; Mexican Bonds, 35¾ to 6; Deferred, 9¾ to 10; Belgian, 102 to 3; Brazilian, 64¼ to 5¼; Chilian, 84 to 6; Colombian, 22¼ to ½; Danish, 81 to 2; Dutch Five per Cents., 100¾ to 1¼; ditto Two-and-a-Half per Cents., 51¼ to ½ ex div.; Portuguese Five per Cents., 34 to ½ ex div.; and New Converted, 28 to 29.

Shares were done to-day at the following quotations, viz:—London and Birmingham, 85 to 7 prem.; Great Westerns, 21 to 2 prem.; South Westerns, 60 to 61 per share; Brightons, 35¼ per share; Blackwalls, 9 to ½ per share; North Midland, 61 to 63 per share; Paris and Rouen, ¼ to ¾ prem.; Manchester and Leeds, 7 to 9 prem.

In Joint Stock Banks the shares of the Union Bank of Australia were done at 30¼, and the New Shares at 30½ to 30.

The following are the official quotations at the different markets during the day:—

TRIAL OF JOHN FRANCIS FOR THE ATTEMPT UPON THE LIFE OF HER MAJESTY.

FRIDAY last having been fixed for the trial of John Francis, the miscreant who recently fired at her Majesty in St. James' Park, some persons, excited by curiosity to witness the trial, began to arrive at the Court as early as eight o'clock; but as no persons were admitted who had not tickets from the Sheriffs, the Court was by no means crowded, and if its aspect had been taken as a criterion, it might have been supposed that the matter caused very little excitement.

The counsel for the prosecution were the Attorney-General, the Solicitor-General, Mr. Waddington, and Mr. Adolphus.

Mr. Clarkson appeared to defend the prisoner.

The Judges arrived at ten o'clock. They were Chief Justice Tindal, Baron Gurney, and Mr. Justice Patteson.

The prisoner, who looked well and unaltered, was then brought into the dock, and placed at the bar. He appeared quite unmoved by his situation, and heard the following indictment read without any apparent trepidation or motion:—

"John Francis—that he, being a subject of our Lady the Queen, and not regarding the duty of his allegiance, as a false traitor against our Lady the Queen, on the 30th of May, 1842, at Westminster, within the jurisdiction of the said Court, maliciously and traitorously did compass and imagine, devise and intend, to bring and put our said Lady the Queen to death; and in order to fulfil, perfect, and bring to effect his most evil and wicked treason, and treasonable compassing, imagination, device, and intention, aforesaid, he, on the said 30th May, at Westminster aforesaid, did maliciously and traitorously shoot off and discharge a certain pistol loaded with gunpowder and a bullet, which he in his right hand held at and against the person of our said Lady the Queen, with intent thereby and therewith maliciously and traitorously to shoot, assassinate, kill, and put to death, our said Lady the Queen, and thereby he maliciously and traitorously made a direct direct attempt against the life of our said Lady the Queen."

The second count related to the overt act, varying only from the first by stating that the pistol was loaded with gunpowder and certain other destructive materials and substances to the persons unknown.

The third, only for shooting off and discharging a certain loaded pistol.

The fourth—the same, only for shooting off and discharging a certain pistol; containing also four other overt acts, for discharging, firing off, and shooting, a pistol, and alleging that he thereby and therewith traitorously and maliciously made a direct attempt against the person of our said Lady the Queen, whereby the life of our said Lady the Queen was endangered.

On being called upon by the clerk of the Arraigns to say whether he was guilty or not guilty, he in a low tone of voice pleaded "Not guilty."

The jury were then sworn, and the Attorney-General stated the case in a speech of considerable length. Several witnesses were examined, but the facts detailed in evidence presented nothing more than what is already known to the public.

Mr. Clarkson then addressed the jury for the prisoner.

After a few remarks from the Solicitor-General, Chief Justice Tindal proceeded to sum up the case, telling the jury that the great question for them would be—what were the contents of the pistol at the time it was fired by the prisoner, and what was the intention of the prisoner in discharging it?

The jury then retired from the Court at twenty minutes past four o'clock, and returned into Court at three minutes after five, having been absent nearly three-quarters of an hour.

On being asked by the Clerk of the Arraigns whether they had found the prisoner guilty or not guilty.

The Foreman of the Jury rose and said, "My lord, we find the prisoner guilty upon the second and third counts; but we are not satisfied upon the first, namely, that the pistol contained a bullet."

Chief Justice Tindal—The first overt act charges him with firing a pistol loaded with gunpowder and ball. Do you find him guilty of that?

The Foreman—No, my lord, we do not.

Chief Justice Tindal—Do you find him guilty on the second count—of firing a pistol loaded with gunpowder and some other destructive material?

Foreman—We do, my lord.

Chief Justice Tindal—Then you think that some other more destructive substance than the wadding and powder was contained in the pistol?

Foreman—We do, my lord.

This amounted to a verdict of Guilty upon the charge of high treason, and the prisoner was called upon to say whether he had anything to urge why sentence should not be passed upon him.

He made no answer.

Mr. Harker, the Usher of the Court, then made the usual proclamation for silence while sentence of death was passed upon the prisoner.

During these proceedings the prisoner turned deadly pale, and he then became suddenly flushed, and it was evident from his appearance that he was suffering most acutely.

The whole of the Judges then put on their black caps, and Chief Justice Tindal addressed the prisoner in the following terms:—

John Francis, a jury of your country, after a patient investigation, have found you guilty of a crime the deepest in its die, the most destructive to the interests of society, and the highest known to the laws. They have found that, forgetting your allegiance, you made a direct attack upon the life of her Sacred Majesty, and it is our duty to pass upon you the sentence of the law for that heinous offence. It would be idle to attempt by any observation to induce you to think of the enormity of the crime. A heart that could conceive, and a hand that could be capable of executing it, must be too callous to attend to any observations aggravative of the offence. It was to Almighty God, who had said, "Touch not mine anointed," and who expressed his will to protect those Princes who put their faith in Him, that the nation owed the safety of their Sovereign, and that they were not now a nation of mourning. I entreat you to make earnest prayer to that Almighty Being, that, as he has been pleased to spare us this misery, and you the additional aggravation that would have been occasioned had your diabolical attempt being carried into effect, he will, by ways unknown to human laws, pardon you the offence you have committed against His laws. It only remains for me now to pass upon you the sentence fixed by the law for the offence of which you have been convicted, which is, that you be taken back to gaol, and that you be drawn on a hurdle to the place of execution, there to be hanged by the neck until you are dead; and that after you are dead, your head be severed from your body, and that your body be cut into four quarters, and placed at the disposal of her Majesty as she shall think fit; and may the Lord God Almighty have mercy on your sinful soul.

The moment the learned Judge had concluded, the prisoner fell insensible into the arms of one of the turnkeys, and in that state he was carried out of the court.

THE WATERLOO BANQUET.

THE anniversary of Waterloo was celebrated on Saturday, the 18th of June, by the customary banquet at Apsley-house, given by the Duke of Wellington to the officers who took part in that memorable battle. As upwards of a quarter of a century has elapsed, it yearly becomes of additional interest, not only to those moving in the military circles, but the nation at large.

The sumptuous entertainment given by the noble and gallant Duke on Saturday was graced by the presence of his Royal Highness Prince Albert, who, with the single exception of the Marquess of Exeter, groom of the stole to his Royal Highness, in attendance on the Prince, was the only personage in the party who was not actually present in either of the actions of the 16th, 17th, or 18th of June, 1815.

Covers were laid for eighty persons, the noble and gallant Duke presiding, with His Royal Highness Prince Albert on his right and the Marquess of Anglesey on his left, the noble marquess being the next senior Waterloo officer to the gallant host.

The fine band of the Grenadier Guards, the duke's regiment, who during the arrival of the guests performed in the vestibule, was stationed in an ante-room communicating with the gallery.

At a quarter to nine o'clock dessert was placed on the table, the beautiful service of Potsdam china, a gift from the late King of Prussia, being used on the occasion, with a service entirely of gold.

The health of her Majesty the Queen was then proposed by the noble duke, which was enthusiastically honoured, the band playing the national anthem.

His Grace then gave his Royal Highness Prince Albert, a toast which was similarly honoured.

His Royal Highness Prince Albert then rose and proposed "the health of the Duke of Wellington."

The next toast given was that of "The Marquess of Anglesey" by the Duke, to which the gallant Marquess responded.

The noble host then proposed "Lord Hill and the British Army;" after which was given "The heroes who fell at Waterloo." Drunk in solemn silence.

"The health of Prince Castelcicala, the Neapolitan minister," was the succeeding toast, to which his Excellency replied.

The other toasts of the evening were—"Sir Henry Hardinge, Lord Seaton, Sir Charles B. Vere, and Sir Peregrine Maitland," which were respectively acknowledged by those gallant officers.

THE LOCKING-IN CONTROVERSY.—(From the Rev. Sidney Smith.)—The following letter cannot, consistently with justice to our readers, be withheld from them. They must laugh, of necessity, at its quaintness. It is in reply to Sir Robert Peel's allusion to the reverend writer in the railway debate of Saturday:—"To Sir Robert Peel. A cruel attack upon me, Sir Robert, to attribute all my interference with the arbitrary proceedings of railroads to personal fear. Nothing can be more ungrateful and unkind. I thought only of you and for you, as many Whig gentlemen will bear me testimony who rebuked me for my anxiety. I said to myself and to them, 'Our lovely and intrepid minister may be overthrown on the rail. The locked door may be uppermost. He will kick and call on the speaker and sergeant-at-arms in vain. Nothing will remain of all his graces, his flexibilities, his fascinating, facetious fun, his social warmth; nothing of his flow of soul—of his dear heavy pleasantry—of his prevailing skill to impart disorderly wishes to the purest heart; nothing will remain of it all but a heap of ashes but the parish church of Tamworth. He perishes at the moment that he is becoming as powerful in the drawing-room of court as in the House of Parliament—at the moment when Hullah (not without hopes of ultimate success) is teaching him to sing, and Melmot to dance.' I have no doubt of your bravery, Sir Robert, though you have of mine; but, then, consider what different lives we have led, and what a school of courage is that troop of yeomanry at Tamworth, the Tory fencibles. Who can doubt of your courage who has seen you at their head, marching up Pitt-street, through Dundas-square, on to Liverpool-lane, and looking all the while like those beautiful medals of Bellona Frigida and Mars sine Sanguine, the very horses looking at you as if you were going to take away three per cent. of their oats? After such speeches as these, the account you give of your own courage cannot be doubted. The only little circumstance which I cannot entirely reconcile to the possession of this very high attribute in so eminent a degree, is, that you should have selected for your uncourteous attack enemies who cannot resent, and a place where there can be no remedy. I am, Sir, your obedient servant, SYDNEY SMITH."—[The following is the passage in Sir Robert Peel's speech, which has called forth the above rejoinder:—"He repeated, however, that he did not think that it would be expedient to legislate on the subject, but by far the best course to pursue was, to let public opinion, which generally acted in the right direction, operate on the railway companies, and he had little doubt but that would soon set the matter right. If there should happen to be any old ladies or ecclesiastics—(Laughter)—who were so excessively timid as to be afraid to be locked up in a carriage, he had no doubt that after a short time the railway directors and those persons would settle it between them. He believed that, with the greatest security, the nature of the suggestions or recommendations to be made to the railway companies would be best left to the direction of the board of trade, assisted as their opinions would be by the advice of such destinguished officers as Sir Frederick Smith and Colonel Pasley. (Hear.)"

HAMBURGH—THE QUEEN'S LETTER.—Hamburgh, June 20: The senate having written to her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain, expressing their gratitude for the sympathy shown by her Majesty by sending tents and blankets, and by opening a subscription for the relief of the sufferers by the fire, her Majesty has been pleased to return the following gracious answer:—"Victoria, by the grace of God, Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, defender of the Faith, &c., &c., to the Burgomasters and Senate of the free Hanseatic city of Hamburgh, sendeth greeting. Our good friends,—We have received the letter which you addressed to us, on the 24th ultimo, expressing your gratitude for the assistance furnished from this country to the sufferers by the late calamitous fire at Hamburgh. In acknowledging and thanking you for the sentiments of friendship and attachment which are contained in your letter, we assure you that we most sincerely sympathise in the distress with which so many of the inhabitants of your ancient city have been overwhelmed by this awful calamity; and that it has afforded us real pleasure to be enabled to contribute, in some manner, to their relief. In the hope that, by the aid of Divine Providence, you may succeed in speedily repairing the effects of the desolation which has fallen upon you, we recommend you to the protection of the Almighty.—Given at our Court, at Windsor-castle, the 8th day of June, in the year of our Lord, 1842, and in the fifth year of our reign. Your good friend, VICTORIA REG.—ABERDEEN.

FOREIGN MEAT.—The ship Sussex brought to London, on Friday, two casks, as sample, of South Australian beef, of very fine quality. The shipper says—"We shall be paid if we get three pence per lb. in London," and he adds, "cattle feed so well in Australia that feeding cattle, and sending it to London or Liverpool, will pay better than sheep farming."—Liverpool Courier.

HOW TO RELIEVE THE PEOPLE.—A proclamation announcing the issue of a coin of a value unknown before—viz., half farthings—was published on Friday. Hitherto a large proportionate profit has been made out of fractions, which never have been given in favour of the buyer, and which will now be ended, and therefore by so much will be beneficial to the poorer classes.—Tory Paper.

THE ARRIVAL OF THE MEDWAY, WEST INDIA STEAMER.—We have received our letters and papers brought by the royal mail steamer Medway. They contain no news of importance. The Earl of Elgin arrived at Kingston on the 18th ult., and was enthusiastically received. After being sworn in as Governor-General of Jamaica, he issued a proclamation, that the 22nd ult. should be regarded as a day of humiliation and thanksgiving to Almighty God for the deliverance of that island from the devastating effects of the late earthquake, as experienced at the neighbouring island of Hayti. Sir Charles Metcalfe embarked on the 20th, for England, in Her Majesty's vessel Vestal. A good deal of commercial distress continued to be experienced at Jamaica, and several failures had occurred: labour was scarce and dear, the crops were promising, and the season was altogether favourable. The British barque Coquette, of and for Liverpool, from Jamaica, was wrecked on the 16th ult. on the Heneague. The Coquette left Jamaica on the 9th of April, with a full cargo of sugar, &c., and several passengers. The passengers and crew were saved, with a part of the cargo. The following letter, respecting the effects of the late earthquake at Cape Haytien, has been sent to us by Captain Franklin, of the West India steamer Tweed, while off St. Domingo, at the time that lamentable occurrence took place:—"Turk's Island, May 24.—Sir: It may perhaps be interesting to you to learn that, at the time the earthquake happened at Cape Haytien a similar occurrence took place at Turk's Island. The Tweed, under my command, was off St. Domingo, False Cape, bearing E. by N. twelve or fourteen miles. I was sitting at dinner, when I felt the ship strike as if going along a coral reef, or hard sand-bank. I ran on deck, stopped the engines, put the helm hard a-starboard, threw overboard the deep sea-lead, with eighty fathoms line—no bottom. So satisfied was I that the ship had been ashore, that I had hired a diver at Turk's Island to look at the ship's bottom, but who was prevented doing so by my being obliged to go to the assistance of the Medina, which ship had got on shore on the north part of Turk's Island. It is a singular circumstance that the sensation was felt so strongly, when we were, at the least, in 300 fathoms water.—Yours, &c., EDWARD FRANKLIN."—We learn from another source that, on the Tweed arriving at Cape Francois, the persons on board were met by the British consul, Mr. Thompson, in an open boat, who informed them that, on the Saturday preceding, the town of Cape Haytien had been visited by an earthquake, and was now a mass of ruins, between 4,000 and 5,000 souls (one-half of the whole population) having suffered in the calamity, as well as property to a vast amount. He further stated that, shortly before the shock, he had providentially ridden out of the town; and that, on galloping back, he found, to his dismay, his house in ruins, and his wife and family involved in the general destruction. Few of the respectable or influential inhabitants had escaped, but such as had, were now exposed to the further dangers of rapine and murder by the lower classes of the blacks, who seemed to have thrown off all sense of humanity, and were rioting in the confusion, and otherwise profiting by the general distraction which this fearful catastrophe had occasioned. It was further stated, that from the immense loss of life, and the reckless conduct of the mass of the survivors, the atmosphere surrounding the ruins had become impregnated with the most unwholesome and pestilential effluvia, which, it was feared, would engender disease, and materially add to the mortality already sustained. All the respectable inhabitants who were able to quit, had taken refuge in the vessels then in harbour.

BETHNAL GREEN CHURCHES.—The fourth of the ten new churches proposed to be erected in the populous parish of Bethnal-green is rapidly approaching completion, and will be consecrated by the Lord Bishop of London as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made. Many of the seats will be free and unappropriated, and the others are to be let at a price which will bring them within the means of the tradesmen and artisans who reside in that neighbourhood. Three years have elapsed since the Bishop of London issued his proposals for ten additional churches, school-houses, and parsonages, in this vast parish; £75,000 were required, and £63,000 have been already subscribed. Three churches have been consecrated, four more are in progress; eight sites out of the ten have been procured, and the sum of £12,000 only is now required to complete the work of giving churches, clergymen, and schools, to a population of 74,000 souls, who have been hitherto almost destitute of all external means of spiritual and moral improvement. The congregations of the churches already built are extremely large, and the Sunday, daily, and infant schools, are well attended. The principal and fellows of Brasenose college, Oxford, patrons of the rectory, have vested the perpetual patronage of eight of the new churches in the Bishop of London, and have given him the first nomination to the remaining two.

NEAR CLEVELAND HOUSE, WITH FRONTAGES TO
HOLT STREET AND COOPER STREET, LEADING TO ELIZABETH STREET.
(AS PER PLAN, AT THE MART),
NINE BUILDING ALLOTMENTS,
Having twenty-feet frontages, with depths of from seventy to one hundred and thirty feet.

MR. STUBBS is instructed to put up by public auction, on MONDAY, the 7th day of November, 1842, at the Mart, King-street, sale at twelve.

The above long-promised ground, for public competition and general advantage admits of many important recommendations. The first and most necessary point, as deserving the notice and attention of every tradesman, mechanic, and operative, is the money to be made on the purchase as a building ground, so near the business part of the city, and in a neighbourhood so decidedly preferable for any industrious man to live in. The next is, that it is not represented with any of the drapery of a dashing suburban bella-ville notoriety, but simply as a proper bit of freehold ground, where a man gets his house up at small expense, and unencumbered with many wants and superfluous outlayings; he sees his way all clear before him, saves rent, becomes a master of a good freehold, and from the habit of home comforts with his family, soon gets recognised in the city as a man of character and respectability; his credit gets fixed, and he never need want for a pound or two, if he should unexpectedly want it.

Terms will be very liberal, and made known at sale. 6053

TO SELL BY PUBLIC AUCTION,

at the Mart, King-street, on MONDAY, the 7th day of November, 1842, at twelve o'clock precisely,

(As per plan by Mr. A. W. Meikle.)

All that valuable piece of building ground in Botany-street, opposite Wellington-street, and situated about the centre, between Cleveland and Parramatta streets.

LOTS 7 and 8,

are very commodious and particularly desirable for persons of trade, or mechanics keeping a corner Shop, as for a barber, butcher, or eating-house keeper.

And considering the great proportion of the inhabitants of Phillip Ward that this quarter embraces; it is surprising to think the length of way a man has to run to get a clean shave by Church time.

"Barbiere," and he of the hair cutting line, would soon curl up a pretty business for himself and family, and establish himself the head man of the whole parish, and as good too as his neighbour the boot and shoemaker, who would not come in either last or least in the way of lapping up some £8 a week—solely to himself.

It is dishonest to induce buyers of property beyond the limits of prudence all of us know—but, when our eyes are wide awake to the hundreds of respectable mechanics and tradesmen, who live in this part of the town—all sprung up since the throwing open this property for Sale; it is no great act of conjuration to divine it the most popular money-making ground to turn over into a capital profit of any about Sydney. 6052

IMPORTANT SALE.
BY ORDER OF THE MORTGAGEE.
LAND AT CAMPBELLTOWN AND HINTON.

MR. SAMUEL LYONS will submit for sale by public auction, at his Mart, the corner of George-street and Charlotte-place, on MONDAY, the 7th November, at twelve o'clock precisely,

WITHOUT THE LEAST RESERVE, AT CAMPBELLTOWN.

An Allotment of Land, situate at the corner of Lindsay and Lithgow streets, Campbelltown, containing one acre and thirty perches, on which is erected FOUR BRICK VERANDAH COTTAGES.

This property is confidently recommended to public notice, being very advantageously situated in Campbelltown, which is rapidly increasing in magnitude and importance.

It is to be particularly observed, that the fortunate buyer in this instance, will at once have an income arising from his purchase, an advantage seldom to be met with, as houses situated in any of the principal towns in the Colony are very rarely offered for sale, even in the present times. As the above property is of considerable value, the Auctioneer respectfully invites intending purchasers to visit the same previous to the day of sale.

ALSO,

A PIECE OF LAND ON THE HUNTER'S RIVER, forming a part of the Hinton Estate, being lots 1 and 2 (and lots 12 and 13 in the original sale,) having EACH A FRONTAGE OF ONE HUNDRED FEET TO THE HUNTER'S RIVER, with a depth of two hundred and eighteen feet each, near the junction of the PATERSON AND HUNTER RIVERS, and directly facing Kelly's Farms.

The position of this property is truly important, and renders it a peculiarly suitable spot for the erection of an INN or MERCANTILE STORE. In fact, whatever amount it may realize, there can be no doubt but that in a very short time, judging from the numerous improvements in the vicinity, it will greatly increase in value.

A good field is here opened for speculation, which under judicious management cannot fail of success, being near the confluence of two of the principal rivers in the colony, which are navigated by steam; the trade and traffic is immense, and must ever keep pace with the increase of population.

Plans of each of the above properties may be seen, and further particulars obtained, at the mart of the auctioneer.

The abstracts of title and title deeds may be seen and perused on application at the office of Mr. R. J. Want, solicitor, Pitt-street, Sydney.

TERMS OF PAYMENT.—A cash deposit of ten per cent. on the fall of the hammer; for the residue, approved endorsed bills at three, six, and nine months, dated from day of sale, and bearing interest at the rate of ten per cent. per annum from day of sale. 5800

BY ORDER OF THE MORTGAGEE.
LAND AT VAUCLUSE,
AND
SIXTY-FOUR ALLOTMENTS,
Being a portion of the celebrated Estate of PADDINGTON,
Situated in the Parish of Alexandria, on the South Head Road, and nearly opposite the New Military Barracks.

MR. SAMUEL LYONS begs to inform the public, that the above properties will be offered by him for positive sale by Public Auction, at his Mart, the corner of George-street and Charlotte-place, on MONDAY, the 7th November, at twelve o'clock, and without the least reserve, Immediately after the sale of the Campbelltown and Hinton Estates.

The celebrated estate of VAUCLUSE, late the property of W. C. Wentworth, Esq., Lot No. 23 of the original plan, containing four acres and three-quarters of this splendid property, which is daily and even hourly increasing in value, and is not more than a walking distance from the business part of Sydney.

This allotment joins the church reserve, and is bounded by Mr. John Jones's allotments, having frontages to both the Old and New South Head Roads.

In recommending this property to the notice of individuals desirous of possessing a suburban allotment, the Auctioneer begs to remark, that Vaucluse commands such extensive views that no ship or vessel can possibly enter or pass the harbour without being seen, and may be justly compared to Southend, the fashionable watering place at the mouth of the Thames.

AFTER WHICH,

In consequence of the numerous applications which have been made to the Auctioneer, the remaining unsold portion of the celebrated

ESTATE OF PADDINGTON.

comprising Sixty-four Building Allotments, which are so well known and in such great demand, that it is now unnecessary to say more than that they are nearly opposite the

and the vast improvements which are going on in that direction, are truly surprising.

Plans, illustrative of the above properties, may be inspected, and further particulars obtained, at the Mart of the auctioneer.

TERMS OF PAYMENT,

£10 per cent. cash deposit on the fall of the hammer; for the residue, approved endorsed bills at three, six, and nine months, dated from day of sale, and bearing interest at the rate of ten per cent. per annum from day of sale. 5118

IMPORTANT SALE OF LANDS.
TITLE—GRANTS FROM THE CROWN.

MR. SAMUEL LYONS will Sell by Public Auction, at his Mart, George-street and Charlotte-place, on MONDAY, the 21st November, at Eleven o'clock precisely,

BY ORDER OF THE TRUSTEES OF MR. JOSEPH ROBERTS.

Pursuant to instructions received by the Auctioneer, for the positive Sale of the Landed Properties in this Estate, the undermentioned situate in various parts of the Colony, will be put up for unreserved sale in the following order, viz.:—

VALUABLE LANDS,

1st.—THREE SUBURBAN ALLOTMENTS, adjoining the TOWNSHIP OF GOULBURN, being a portion of the thirty-eight Allotments sold on the 18th August, 1841, viz.:—

Lot 1—Containing two acres
2—Containing two acres two roods and thirty-six perches
3—Containing two acres and twenty-eight perches.

These Allotments are on the Banks of the MULWAREE PONDS, and have also frontage to a Government Road. They adjoin Mr. Simmon's land, and are near Mr. Way's property, commencing near the residence of G. Stewart, Esq., Police Magistrate of the district.

2nd.—THREE SUBURBAN ALLOTMENTS, adjoining the TOWNSHIP OF GOULBURN, and opposite the thirty-eight allotments offered for sale in this estate on the 18th August, 1841, viz.:—

Lot 39—One Allotment, containing twenty acres
40—One ditto, twenty acres
41—One ditto, twenty acres one rood twenty-six perches.

Each having a frontage to the Government Road which leads to the Township of Goulburn. These Allotments adjoin Mr. Shelley and Mr. Moses' Lands, are not far from the MULWAREE CHAIN OF PONDS, and from the quality of the land alone they are well worthy of attention. In addition to which, from their immediate vicinity to Goulburn, they must greatly increase in value, as it is most probable that in a short time they will become a part of the Town of Goulburn itself; at present, they may be compared to the SURRY HILLS of Sydney.

3rd.—TWO FARMS on the navigable banks of GEORGE'S RIVER; Sixty acres each.

These farms are situated near the Horse-shoe road, opposite to the estates of David Johnstone, Esq., Captain Weston, C. Tompson, Esq., and others, being on the navigable banks of the river, where there is plenty of water for vessels of any burthen.

This property has many advantages,—such as very little fencing being required, as it is bounded on two sides by water; there is plenty of timber for every purpose that can be required on a farm. It adjoins the Government Wharf and Stonequarry, where there is plenty of FRESH water, and is only a short distance from Liverpool; it has easy water conveyance by the river to within six miles of Sydney, which is a great advantage; there is some excellent stone upon the estate suitable for building and flagging streets; a large portion of the land has been under cultivation.

4th.—EIGHT FARMS of twenty-five acres each, in the PARISH OF CASTLEREAGH.

These farms are situate on the Great Northern Road, between Penrith and Richmond, Windsor, &c., commencing at the bridge, and bounded on the south by land of J. T. Hughes, Esq.; on the north by Crown land, and near the properties of Messrs. Spencer, Cupitt, &c.; the lands of Messrs. Harper, Rope, Etsell, and Connor, are directly opposite on the other side of the Great North Road. Advantages are here presented that are rarely to be met with.

5th.—FOUR ALLOTMENTS near MIDDLE HARBOUR.

Situate at the head of a creek leading to Middle Harbour; they contain upwards of Ten Acres each, in the vicinity of the main road to Wolstonecraft's, Nichols', Gore's, and other wharves at LANE COVE, and near to the estates of Mr. D. D. Matthews, known as "Clanville," Messrs. Foster, Bradley, and others.

The accommodation of water conveyance, which is to be obtained at a short distance from these allotments, offers great advantage to the inhabitants of the district, who have thus ready communication with Sydney and other places.

6th.—TWO FARMS on the MAIN DOORAL ROAD.

Containing by deed of grant, eighty-five acres viz.:—No. 1, forty-five acres; No. 2, forty ditto, both situated on the high road, contiguous to the Estates of Messrs. Maziere O'Brien, Woodhouse, Floyd, and others.

The road from Wiseman's joins the Dooral Road, at a short distance from these Farms on the south. This property is particularly recommended to notice.

7th.—TWO PLOTS OF GROUND AT BURWOOD,

Fronting a reserved road leading to the Burwood Road, which joins the Parramatta at Neich's, and the Liverpool Road at Broad's, they are bounded on the east by Mr. Smart's land, on the west by Mr. Gommany's, and on the north by Mr. Edrop's, which is the only property between these allotments and the Parramatta Road. They are opposite Mr. Soole's, and near Mr. Webb's lands.—Contents, Three roods thirty-seven and a-half perches each. Land hereabouts is rapidly advancing in value.

8th.—TWO FARMS AT MITTAGONG, ON THE MAIN BONG BONG ROAD.

They contain fifty acres each, and are bounded on the south by Mr. Coates' land, on the north by Mr. Loseby's, on the west by Mr. Foster's, and are near the Estate of W. Bowman, Esq., Oxley's Estate, and the WINGECARRIBEE RIVER, with a frontage on the high road from Argyle to Sydney. Conway and M'Keane's Farms are immediately opposite this property.

9.—TWO ALLOTMENTS in the TOWN OF YASS, containing half an acre each, being No. 16 of section 1, fronting Warambalalah-street, opposite the reserve for public recreation; in which section are the lands of Messrs. M'Dermott, Hurley, Fermall, Moses, &c., and the Police Station and Court House.

The value of these Allotments is sufficiently obvious.

10th.—EIGHT ALLOTMENTS at LANE COVE, containing one acre each.

This property is beautifully situated on the banks of Lane Cove, where there is plenty of water for vessels to lay close, and discharge or load. As it is bounded by two roads, one leading to Parramatta and the interior, and the other crossing over to the Parramatta River, there can be no doubt but this property will become very valuable, as this must be a great thoroughfare. It is also joined by several small farms, and is not more than half-a-mile from Mr. Kirk's property, and three miles distant from Sydney.

In reference to these highly valuable estates, the auctioneer will not add a single word to the above bare description. It is only necessary for intending purchasers to remember that they will be positively knocked down to the highest bidder WITHOUT THE LEAST RESERVE; and that the title of the whole of them will be found perfect, as they are all grants from the Crown, and most of them a PEPPERCORN QUIT-RENT ONLY.

Terms—25 per cent. cash deposit on the fall of the hammer, the residue by approved endorsed bills at three and six months, with security on the property if required.

Descriptive plans, drawn by Mr. Bemi, may be seen at the auctioneer's. 6054

Being No. 1 allotment, of section 13, adjoining Mr. Barnett's land, on Bungonia Creek; and No. 11 and 12, of section 7, at the corner of Bedford and Howick streets.

NOTICE is hereby given, that on Monday, the 2nd day of January next, the following Lands, forming a portion of the Estates belonging to the late Church and School Corporation, will be put up to PUBLIC AUCTION, at the rear of the Colonial Treasury, on Leases for Twenty-one years, at an annual rental; the sale to commence at twelve o'clock precisely, viz.:—

The following is a plan upon which these Lands will be offered for public competition:—Leases to be granted for Twenty-one years, with the option to the Tenant to determine it at the expiration of the first or second term of seven years; the rental for the second and third terms to be increased in the following ratio:—If 4s. per acre be offered for the first term of seven years, the rental for the second term will be 6s. and the third term 3s. per acre per annum. The Lease will not contain any clause to prevent assigning or underletting, but the under tenants will in no way be recognised by the Government, and the original Lessee always held responsible for the due payment of the rent. The usual reservations regarding the right of making Roads, constructing Bridges, &c., will be introduced, but the reservations will not extend to Timber, which the tenant will be allowed to cut.

Any Lands not bid for at the time of Auction will be left open for the selection of future applicants; in such cases the Government will not bind itself to accept the minimum price, but any offer made will be submitted by the Agent for approval.
